PRES. COOLIDGE AND CONGRESS IN DISSENSION

3 VIEWPOINTS IN SCANDAL PROBE NOW IN PROGRESS

COOLIDGE'S SPECIAL COUNSEL TO WORK IMMEDIATELY, NOT WAITING ON SENATE

SECRETARY OF NAVY DENBY RE-AFFIRMS HIS SANCTION OF OIL RESERVE LEASES

Congress Today By United Press

Senate: Discussion of Walsh resolution and Robinson resolution on frauds at noon. Public lands committee hears physicians of former Secretary of the Interior Fall. Naval appropriations committee considers $100,000 house appropriation for prosecution to recover leases and decide on criminal action. House: Considers interior department bills. Naval affairs committee begins investigation of use of naval oil funds.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Dis-sension between congress and President Coolidge today threat-ened seriously to delay the prom-ised clean-up of the naval oil leasing scandal and to convert into partisan political squabbles which started out to be a non-partisan effort to bring out all the facts and remedy any wrongs committed in connection with the leasing of Teapot Dome and the California reserves.

Three different points of dissen-sion cropped up between the chief executive and the "scandal" investi-gators in the capitol.

1. Announcement by Bascom Slem, secretary to the president, that Mr. Coolidge's special counsel named last night would go to work before being confirmed by the senate.

1. The defy of Secretary of the Navy Denby who re-affirmed his sanction of the oil reserve leases and made light of the threat of congress to impeach him.

3. Efforts of administration lead-ers under personal direction of Pres-ident Coolidge to "tone down" the Walsh resolutions calling upon the president to appoint prosecutors.

Mr. Coolidge's selection of the spe-cial counsel to prosecute the leasing cases both civilly and criminally if the evidence warrants, occasioned much surprise.

He chose Thomas Watts Gregory, democrat of Texas, attorney general in the Wilson administration, and Silas H. Strawn, republican of Chi-cago.

ATTORNEYS GO TO WASHINGTON

Austin, Texas, Jan. 30.—Thomas Watt Gregory, former attorney gen-eral appointed with Silas H. Strawn of Chicago to conduct court action in the oil leasing scandal, will leave here tonight for Washington.

"I am going down to see what they want us to do," Gregory said, "any-thing further that is made public will have to come from Washington."

Gregory conferred with States At-torney General Keating today regard-ing his services as counsel for the state of Texas in litigation before the United States supreme court over the Texas-Oklahoma boundary.

NAVY DEPARTMENT EXPLORES FOR OIL

Washington, Jan. 30.—Rear Ad-miral Gregory appearing before the house naval affairs committee today revealed that the navy department is now working on a construction pro-gram to provide for erection of a series of oil derrick stations at a cost of $50,000,000. These funds come from royalties on the Sinclair Teapot Dome and Doheny California oil leases.

DOHENY ASKED TO BE HEARD

Washington, Jan. 30.—E. L. Do-heny appeared unexpectedly at the senate office building shortly before noon today and asked permission to

VENIZELOS RESIGNS BECAUSE OF ILLNESS, TELLS GREEK CABINET

(By United Press) Athens, Jan. 30.—Premier Veni-zelos notified the cabinet late to-day that because of illness he re-signs.

Venizelos, who returned to Greece at the urgent request of his followers and army and navy officials following expulsion of the Glukshurgs, has suffered two heart attacks. He was recently mar-ried.

FIGHT TO KEEP ANDERSON FROM JAIL

(By United Press) New York, Jan. 30.—A fight to keep William H. Anderson from jail will be launched tomorrow, counsel for the anti-saloon league superin-tendent who was convicted last night of third degree forgery and faces a jail sentence of from two and one-half to five years, announced today.

Ex-Governor Charles Whitman and his assistants who defended Anderson will confer tomorrow on plans for an immediate appeal.

he heard by the naval oil lease in-vestigating committee.

While Doheny declined to give any reason for his appearance it was understood he intends to present Fall's note for the $100,000 loan he made the former secretary.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The senate appropriations committee today voted to report favorably to the senate the house bill appropriating $100,000 to prosecute oil land cases but at-tached an amendment regarding the funds available only after the president submits the names of counsel he has chosen to the senate for confir-mation.

As amended the resolution pro-vides that: "any counsel employed by the president under the authority of this resolution shall be appointed by and with the advice and consent of the senate."

The amendment was unanimously agreed to in the committee.

3 MEDICAL EXPERTS TO EXAMINE FALL

Washington, Jan. 30.—The senate public lands committee today decided to appoint three medical experts to determine whether the actual condi-tion of former Secretary of the Interior Fall, central figure in the naval reserve oil scandal, permitted attend-ance in congress.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Physicians who have been attending former Sec-etary of the Interior Fall told the senate investigating committee today under oath that Fall was suffering from nervous exhaustion. The mem-bers of the committee questioned physicians fully concerning every de-tail of Fall's illness.

The physicians again suggested that a sub-committee go to the home of J. W. Sevely, Sinclair attorney, where Fall is staying and examine him there.

While the committee is not anxious to carry out the suggestion, it was indicated that some members believed it is advisable to go and see Fall if he is unable to appear within the next few days.

DENBY EXPLAINS HIS POLICY TO SENATE

Washington, Jan. 30.—Secretary Denby approved a policy of using royalties from the Teapot Dome and Elk's Hills naval oil reserves for a program of building naval oil bases to cost $50,000,000.

This was revealed today before the house naval affairs committee which plunged into investigation of the le-gality of the navy converting the oil royalties for a building program in-stead of turning the money into the treasury.

GERMANY TO LET OUT AND PARDON LIEUT. GRIFFIS

RELEASE OF OHIOAN EXPECTED TO TAKE PLACE EARLY TODAY

FOREIGN OFFICE AT BERLIN CLAIMS ATTEMPTED KID-NAPER NOT PARDONED

(By United Press) Washington, Jan. 30.—Ger-many has decided to pardon and release from prison former Lieu-tenant Corliss Hooen Griffis of Ohio and other foreigners who some time ago attempted to kid-nap Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, Philadelphia draft dodger, it was learned here today in autho-ritative quarters.

The release of Griffis, which has been the subject of considerable agi-tation in this country, is expected to take place any day.

GERMAN MINISTRY MAKES A STATEMENT

Baden, Germany, 2 p. m.—Lieu-t. Corliss Hooen Griffis, held for the attempted kidnaping of Grover Cleve-land Bergdoll, has not been pardon-ed, the ministry stated this after-noon.

3 p. m.—The foreign office at Ber-lin said "if the pardoning of Griffis is announced it will not be due to newspapers but merely to the merits of the case."

STATE DEPARTMENT ADVISED OF RELEASE

Washington, Jan. 30.—Corliss Hooen Griffis, former American ar-my lieutenant who was jailed in Ger-many following his attempt to kid-nap Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, Phila-delphia draft dodger, has been un-conditionally released, the state de-partment was officially advised today.

ENGLAND HAS FASTEST SUBMARINE IN WORLD

London (By mail to United Press).—In the new submarine X-1 Britain has not only the largest undersea craft in the world, but also the fast-est.

The new giant's qualifications for supremacy include:

A surface speed of 32 knots, enab-ling her to accompany the ships of the Battle Fleet, even when they are steaming at full speed.

A crew of 100 men, including 20 engine room artificers.

A canteen, this being an innova-tion on submarines.

The X-1 is designed as a commerce raider with the speed of a destroyer. The X-1 recently underwent a 38-hour secret test at sea.

MOVE TO OUST STATE FORESTER

COX SAYS HIS STAND ON CONSER-VATION OF TIMBER IS THE CAUSE

St. Paul, Jan. 30.—$5,000,000 worth of timber.

That is the reason State Forester Cox declared today for the movement to oust him.

Minnesota, he pointed out, has more state timber than any other state in the union.

The entire fight, he declared, is over protection of the state timber.

"I can't conceive of the board tak-ing any action along the suggestions made," Cox said, "inasmuch as the board has always approved my poli-cies."

No matter what happens, he said, he will remain in Minnesota to con-tinue the fight for the conservation of the forests. Indications today point to a large attendance at the meeting of the board tomorrow.

TO RECOMMEND A CONTINUANCE OF PRESENT SCALE

(By United Press) Indianapolis, Jan. 30.—The scale committee of the United Mine Workers' convention will recom-mend a continuance of the pres-ent wage scale for a term of four years, in its report to the con-vention, it was learned from a reli-able source today.

The report of the scale committee coincides with the policy of John L. Lewis, international president, who has taken the stand that long term contracts is the greatest need of the miners.

The convention may not get to the scale committee report before Friday or Saturday, owing to the delay in considering other busi-ness.

DECLARED "DEAD." RECOVERS IDENTITY

BUT IT MAY TAKE ACT OF CON-GRESS TO DECLARE ARTHUR FRAZIER ALIVE

(By United Press) Rochester, Minn., Jan. 30.—Court records show that Arthur Frazier was killed in the Meuse-Argonne October 6, 1918.

As proof the government has pho-tographs of his grave in France and photographs of his flag-draped coffin as it was brought back and buried among his boyhood friends in Ne-braska.

But Arthur Frazier is proving that he is alive. After wandering about the country for four years not even knowing his name, the shock of seeing his mother down in Oklahoma a few weeks ago "opened a door" in his brain, he said.

He fell into her arms and cried like a baby.

Then he tried to prove he was Ar-thur Frazier, as his mother said. In Nebraska he was positively identified by his old sergeant, Harry A. Synott and two old buddies, Duane Jones and George Klingensmith. They served in D company of the 136th infantry.

Today Frazier came to Rochester where a number of his former bud-dies live. Their affidavits with others will be sent to Washington in an attempt to restore Frazier to "life" officially. It may take an act of con-gress to do it.

LIGNITE OUTPUT SETS HIGH RECORD

N. D. MINE PRODUCTION IN 1923 INCREASE 73 PER CENT OVER PREVIOUS YEAR

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 30.—Produc-tion of lignite coal in the North Dakota mines reached the highest figures in 1923 in the history of the mining industry in the state, accord-ing to reports made public by J. P. Mellon, state mine inspector. Pro-duction was 1,435,605 tons, as com-pared with 1,057,823 tons in 1922; 895,715 tons in 1921 and 502,628 tons in the year of 1911, according to the report. The value of the coal after mining is placed at $3,742,413.15.

There were 259 lignite coal mines producing in the state last year, ac-cording to the report, and the big-gest producing county was given as Burleigh, with 291,576 tons of coal.

Mr. Mellon, stated that the in-creased production over the previous year was 73.6 per cent, estimated that 100,000 tons of coal were mined and not reported.

Recommendation is made that funds be provided for the department for the purchase of apparatus to be used in fighting mine fires or in re-scue work. Legislation regulating control of fire by the mine depart-ments is also urged and increased appropriations for the department for general work is asked.

MATING INSTINCTS ARE BROUGHT MORE INTO EVIDENCE

SCIENTIFIC METHOD OF USING GLAND EXTRACTS FOR FUNC-TIONS OF FEMALE GLAND

DEFINITE SEPARATION OF SE-CRETION KNOWN AS THE "SEX HORMONE"

(By United Press) Columbia, Mo., Jan. 30.—Dis-covery of a scientific method of submitting gland extracts for the natural functions of the fe-male gland, a feat scientists have attempted unsuccessfully for 20 years, was announced to the United Press today.

Dr. Edgar Allen, professor of an-atomy at the University of Missouri and Dr. Edward A. Dorsy, professor of biological chemistry at the St. Louis university are co-discoverers of the method.

Definite separation of a secretion known scientifically as the "sex har-mone" from the female glands is the basis of the method.

Dr. Allen said he and his associates extracted the substance from the glandular tissues of cattle and in-jecting it into laboratory animals from which the glands had been re-moved, caused all the changes pro-duced naturally by the glands. The discovery further brings into evi-dence the mating instincts.

NO CRIMINAL PROSECUTION TO FOLLOW IN CASE

(By United Press) St. Paul, Jan. 30.—There will be no criminal prosecution of George W. Rodenberg, St. Paul member of the legislature.

Rodenberg was charged with de-frauding E. I. Brown out of about $1,000 through a stock sale in suit which Judge O'Brien decided yester-day. The court held that the money was improperly obtained and order-ed it returned with interest.

The offense is outlawed under the state blue sky law E. H. Haws mem-ber of the securities commission said. The commission has given every pos-sible aid to Brown in the attempt to recover, Haws pointed out, but can take no action itself.

PIERZ STATE BANK IS CLOSED TODAY

(By United Press) St. Paul, Jan. 30.—The Pierz state bank at Pierz, an inland town near Little Falls, was closed today.

Depleted reserves, the same cause which has closed many other Min-nesota banks was given as the rea-son.

The bank has a capital of $10,000 and deposits of $35,000.

Joseph Mooglin is president. Plans were made two weeks ago for the purchase of this bank by the Merchants state bank of Little Falls, but the deal fell through.

Today the latter bank was consol-idated with the American Savings and Trust company, Little Falls, capitalized at $100,000. The Mer-chants bank was capitalized at $50,000 and had $350,000 in deposits.

KELLOGG HONORED BY BRITISH LEGAL BODY

London, Jan. 30.—Ambassador Frank B. Kellogg has been made an honorary bencher of the Middle Temple, a high honor of the British legal profession. Numbers of no-table Americans have been thus honored, among them five signers of the Declaration of Independence, Chief Justice Taft and former Am-bassador John W. Davis are among the living benchers.

SATISFACTORY START MADE INVESTIGATING GERMANY'S FINANCES

(By United Press) Berlin, Jan. 30.—Committee of experts number one, headed by General Charles G. Dawes, made what officials declared was a "satisfactory start" in its investi-gation of Germany's finances at a two-hour session here today.

Stabilizing of currency, estab-lishment of an independent gold bank and investigation of Ger-many's budget including railways, taxes, etc., were discussed and was said to constitute the chief prob-lems ahead.

GOVERNOR McCRAE TO BE ADJUDGED BANKRUPT TODAY

(By United Press) Indianapolis, Jan. 30.—Governor Warren T. McCray is to be adjudged bankrupt according to a finding made by Harry G. Sheridan, referee in bankruptcy, today.

The report will be submitted to Judge Albert B. Anderson for ap-proval. In making the finding Sheridan said that the governor at the time of filing the petition in bankruptcy by three Ft. Wayne banks was not a laborer or a person chiefly engaged in farming or tilling of the soil. This was the main point at issue at the nine days' hearing before Sheridan in November. Sheridan also found that the governor was insolvent.

Investigation of McCray's personal finances was started several months ago when he announced he was broke.

PRESIDENT DONNELLY PROPHECIES BETTER BUSINESS FOR 1924

(By United Press) St. Paul, Jan. 30.—General im-provements in northwest business conditions for 1924 was prophesied today by Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific.

Donnelly returned yesterday from a trip over the Northern Pacific lines to the coast. Lumber trade in Wash-ington and Oregon is highly favor-able, he said.

More optimism prevails in the Pacific northwest than I ever ex-perienced," Donnelly said.

"Lumber dealers, farmers and business men alike are looking forward to a prosperous year. Crop prospects are good and with the lum-ber business rapidly developing, it has given that section hope for wider expansion."

STATE BANKS MAKE GAIN OF $11,398,114

VEIGEL REPORTS DEPOSITS IN-CREASE OVER MINNESOTA IN 1923

St. Paul, Jan. 30.—Deposits in the state banks of Minnesota increased $11,398,114.50 in 1923.

A report completed today by A. J. Veigel, state superintendent of banks shows that total cash reserves with-in the year rose to nearly double the amount required by law. Total re-sources of all state banks have jump-ed $17,000,000. A large part of the more than $11,000,000 gain is in savings accounts.

"The tabulation of response to the call for bank conditions as of Dec. 31 last has just been completed and shows that the state banks are more than holding their own," Mr. Veigel said. "The total deposits in 1,092 state banks and nine savings banks and 25 trust companies on that date were $433,698,832.76, which is to be compared with $422,300,718.17 on deposit on Dec. 29, 1922. On the date of the call the cash reserve on hand was about $49,000,000, and the amount required by law $26,000,000.

"The total resources of all the state banks at the time of the call were $521,720,811.39, an increase of $17,000,000 over a year ago."

PREMIER POINCARE AND MAC DONALD EXCHANGE LETTERS

EACH OUTLINES VIEWPOINT FOR HIS GOVERNMENT, MAY REACH ACCORD SOON

FRENCH OCCUPATION OF RUHR, BRITISH ATTITUDE ON RUSSIAN RECOGNITION

(By United Press) Paris, Jan. 30.—A big step has been made in an effort to straighten out Anglo-French dif-ferences, a semi-official state-ment said today.

Premier Poincare and Prime Min-ister MacDonald have just exchanged personal letters in which each out-lined the viewpoint of his govern-ment.

"From the viewpoint of the two in-terested in Franco-British co-opera-tion," the semi-official statement says: "The exchange of letters be-tween heads of the two governments constitutes an excellent start."

Pending differences between the two nations include the dispute over French occupation of the Ruhr, the British attitude in favor of recogni-tion of Russia and the whole repara-tions question and allied problems.

A solution of the differences, it was emphasized here, would mean a tremendous step toward the restora-tion of Europe and enhancement of the prestige of the labor government in Great Britain. It was announced the letter of Premier Poincare was sent the British Ambassador in Lon-don yesterday and will be delivered to MacDonald as soon as he returns from Scotland.

"The letters being exchanged are entirely personal," the semi-official statement said.

"And Premier Poincare has re-frained from giving out the substance of his communication."

It is indicated unofficially however, that the correspondence probably will lead to a personal meeting be-tween the two government heads.

TOWNLEY AND HASTINGS PLAN THEIR DEFENSE

(By United Press) Fargo, N. D., Jan. 30.—Arthur C. Townley and J. J. Hastings will con-tend that money they are alleged to have embezzled from the United Con-sumers Stores company did not be-long to the company.

J. W. Brinton who filed the charges against the two was cross-examined today.

Money which Brinton said was de-positied in the Scandinavian Ameri-can bank for the stores company be-longed only in a small part to the stores company and the total should never have been deposited to the lat-ter's account, the defense pointed out.

Brinton admitted that a check he received from the Securities Mort-gage Company, Minneapolis, was made payable to the Scandinavian-American bank and not to the stores company. As manager of the stores company it was Brinton's duty to make the deposits.

Brinton admitted that himself, Hastings and F. B. Wood made trips to Iowa to discount certificates of de-posit and that Hastings and Wood went to Chicago.

Lignite Rate Hearing In Aberdeen Feb. 20

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 30.—The hearing of the railroads' petition for increase in lignite rates from North Dakota mines will be opened Feb. 20 in Aberdeen, S. D., and on Feb. 25 in Bismarck, as originally scheduled, under an arrangement satisfactory to the North Dakota railroad com-mission, it was stated by Commis-sioner C. W. McDonnell today.

MATING INSTINCTS ARE BROUGHT MORE INTO EVIDENCE

SCIENTIFIC METHOD OF USING GLAND EXTRACTS FOR FUNC-TIONS OF FEMALE GLAND

DEFINITE SEPARATION OF SE-CRETION KNOWN AS THE "SEX HORMONE"

(By United Press)

Columbia, Mo., Jan. 30.—Dis-covery of a scientific method of submitting gland extracts for the natural functions of the fe-male gland, a feat scientists have attempted unsuccessfully for 20 years, was announced to the United Press today.

Dr. Edgar Allen, professor of an-atomy at the University of Missouri and Dr. Edward A. Dorsy, professor of biological chemistry at the St. Louis university are co-discoverers of the method.

Definite separation of a secretion known scientifically as the "sex har-mone" from the female glands is the basis of the method.

Dr. Allen said he and his associates extracted the substance from the glandular tissues of cattle and in-jecting it into laboratory animals from which the glands had been re-moved, caused all the changes pro-duced naturally by the glands. The discovery further brings into evi-dence the mating instincts.

NO CRIMINAL PROSECUTION TO FOLLOW IN CASE

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Jan. 30.—There will be no criminal prosecution of George W. Rodenberg, St. Paul member of the legislature.

Rodenberg was charged with de-frauding E. I. Brown out of about $1,000 through a stock sale in suit which Judge O'Brien decided yester-day. The court held that the money was improperly obtained and order-ed it returned with interest.

The offense is outlawed under the state blue sky law E. H. Haws mem-ber of the securities commission said. The commission has given every pos-sible aid to Brown in the attempt to recover, Haws pointed out, but can take no action itself.

PIERZ STATE BANK IS CLOSED TODAY

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Jan. 30.—The Pierz state bank at Pierz, an inland town near Little Falls, was closed today.

Depleted reserves, the same cause which has closed many other Min-nesota banks was given as the rea-son.

The bank has a capital of $10,000 and deposits of $35,000.

Joseph Moeglin is president. Plans were made two weeks ago for the purchase of this bank by the Merchants state bank of Little Falls, but the deal fell through.

Today the latter bank was consoli-dated with the American Savings and Trust company, Little Falls, capitalized at $100,000. The Mer-chants bank was capitalized at $50,000 and had $350,000 in deposits.

KELLOGG HONORED BY BRITISH LEGAL BODY

London, Jan. 30.—Ambassador Frank B. Kellogg has been made an honorary bencher of the Middle Temple, a high honor of the British legal profession. Numbers of no-table Americans have been thus honored, among them five signers of the Declaration of Independence. Chief Justice Taft and former Am-bassador John W. Davis are among the living benchers.

SATISFACTORY START MADE INVESTIGATING GERMANY'S FINANCES

(By United Press)

Berlin, Jan. 30.—Committee of experts number one, headed by General Charles G. Dawes, made what officials declared was a "satisfactory start" in its investi-gation of Germany's finances at a two-hour session here today.

Stabilizing of currency, estab-lishment of an independent gold bank and investigation of Ger-many's budget including railways, taxes, etc., were discussed and was said to constitute the chief prob-lems ahead.

GOVERNOR McCRAY TO BE ADJUDGED BANKRUPT TODAY

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Jan. 30.—Governor Warren T. McCray is to be adjudged bankrupt according to a finding made by Harry G. Sheridan, referee in bankruptcy, today.

The report will be submitted to Judge Albert B. Anderson for ap-proval. In making the finding Sheridan said that the governor at the time of filing the petition in bankruptcy by three Ft. Wayne banks was not a laborer or a person chiefly engaged in farming or tilling of the soil. This was the main point at issue at the nine days' hearing before Sheridan in November. Sheridan also found that the governor was insolvent.

Investigation of McCray's personal finances was started several months ago when he announced he was broke.

PRESIDENT DONNELLY PROPHECIES BETTER BUSINESS FOR 1924

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Jan. 30.—General im-provements in northwest business conditions for 1924 was prophesied today by Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific.

Donnelly returned yesterday from a trip over the Northern Pacific lines to the coast. Lumber trade in Wash-ington and Oregon is highly favor-able, he said.

More optimism prevails in the Pacific northwest than I ever ex-perienced," Donnelly said.

"Lumber dealers, farmers and business men alike are looking for-ward to a prosperous year. Crop prospects are good and with the lum-ber business rapidly developing, it has given that section hope for wider expansion."

STATE BANKS MAKE GAIN OF $11,398,114

VEIGEL REPORTS DEPOSITS IN-CREASE OVER MINNESOTA IN 1923

St. Paul, Jan. 30.—Deposits in the state banks of Minnesota increased $11,398,114.50 in 1923.

A report completed today by A. J. Veigel, state superintendent of banks shows that total cash reserves with-in the year rose to nearly double the amount required by law. Total re-sources of all state banks have jumped $17,000,000. A large part of the more than $11,000,000 gain is in savings accounts.

"The tabulation of response to the call for bank conditions as of Dec. 31 last has just been completed and shows that the state banks are more than holding their own," Mr. Veigel said. "The total deposits in 1,092 state banks and nine savings banks and 25 trust companies on that date were $433,698,832.76, which is to be compared with $422,300,718.17 on deposit on Dec. 29, 1922. On the date of the call the cash reserve on hand was about $49,000,000, and the amount required by law $26,000,000. "The total resources of all the state banks at the time of the call were $521,720,811.39, an increase of $17,000,000 over a year ago."

PREMIER POINCARE AND MAC DONALD EXCHANGE LETTERS

EACH OUTLINES VIEWPOINT FOR HIS GOVERNMENT, MAY REACH ACCORD SOON

FRENCH OCCUPATION OF RUHR, BRITISH ATTITUDE ON RUSSIAN RECOGNITION

(By United Press)

Paris, Jan. 30.—A big step has been made in an effort to straighten out Anglo-French dif-ferences, a semi-official state-ment said today.

Premier Poincare and Prime Min-ister MacDonald have just exchanged personal letters in which each out-lined the viewpoint of his govern-ment.

"From the viewpoint of those in-terested in Franco-British co-opera-tion," the semi-official statement says: "The exchange of letters be-tween heads of the two governments constitutes an excellent start."

Pending differences between the two nations include the dispute over French occupation of the Ruhr, the British attitude in favor of recog-nition of Russia and the whole repara-tions question and allied problems.

A solution of the differences, it was emphasized here, would mean a tremendous step toward the restora-tion of Europe and enhancement of the prestige of the labor government in Great Britain. It was announced the letter of Premier Poincare was sent the British Ambassador in Lon-don yesterday and will be delivered to MacDonald as soon as he returns from Scotland.

"The letters being exchanged are entirely personal," the semi-official statement said.

"And Premier Poincare has re-frained from giving out the substance of his communication."

It is indicated unofficially however, that the correspondence probably will lead to a personal meeting be-tween the two government heads.

TOWNLEY AND HASTINGS PLAN THEIR DEFENSE

(By United Press)

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 30.—Arthur C. Townley and J. J. Hastings will con-tend that money they are alleged to have embezzled from the United Con-sumers Stores company did not be-long to the company.

J. W. Brinton who filed the charges against the two was cross-examined today.

Money which Brinton said was de-posited in the Scandinavian Ameri-can bank for the stores company be-longed only in a small part to the stores company and the total should never have been deposited to the lat-ter's account, the defense pointed out.

Brinton admitted that a check he received from the Securities Mort-gage Company, Minneapolis, was made payable to the Scandinavian-American bank and not to the stores company. As manager of the stores company it was Brinton's duty to make the deposits.

Brinton admitted that himself, Hastings and F. B. Wood made trips to Iowa to discount certificates of de-posit and that Hastings and Wood went to Chicago.

Lignite Rate Hearing In Aberdeen Feb. 20

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 30.—The hearing of the railroads' petition for increase in lignite rates from North Dakota mines will be opened Feb. 20 in Aberdeen, S. D., and on Feb. 25 in Bismarck, as originally scheduled, under an arrangement satisfactory to the North Dakota railroad com-mission, it was stated by Commis-sioner C. W. McDonnell today.

COMMERCIAL STATE BANK
Brainerd, Minn.Why You Should Build Your Home Now

Consider these reasons carefully. Each one is based on the future prosperity and happiness of your family.

- 1st. You want a real home and you need it to give yourself and family the comforts and conveniences that will enable you to do your best work.
- 2nd. It is unwise to postpone home building for possible lower building costs. Remember that lower costs if they should come, would probably find you less able to build than you are now.
- 3rd. Your home should be built before any of the big luxuries like a car are purchased, otherwise the home is likely never to be built. Building the home first makes it easier to buy and enjoy such luxuries. Let us work with you on this important 1924 job.

Why You Should Build Your Home Now

Consider these reasons carefully. Each one is based on the future prosperity and happiness of your family.

- 1st. You want a real home and you need it to give yourself and family the comforts and conveniences that will enable you to do your best work.
- 2nd. It is unwise to postpone home building for possible lower building costs. Remember that lower costs if they should come, would probably find you less able to build than you are now.
- 3rd. Your home should be built before any of the big luxuries like a car are purchased, otherwise the home is likely never to be built. Building the home first makes it easier to buy and enjoy such luxuries. Let us work with you on this important 1924 job.

Lectures to Adults at High School on Disease Prevention and Furthering Good Health

TALKS THURSDAY EVENING
Meeting is Entirely Free. Expenses

Thursday night at the high school Dr. U. F. Wild of the Minnesota Public Health Association will speak on "Disease Prevention and the Furtherance of Good Health." Most people know in a general way that many conditions may be remedied and good health acquired thereby, but they know little of the specific measures to be taken.

The public health committee of the Musical club and of the Parent-Teachers associations are sponsoring the talk this week, and hope that many will come out on Thursday evening. In this day of larger intelligence, most people are open minded and glad to hear of what may be done to prevent the spread of disease. The expense of this lecture will be met from the money realized by the Christmas Seal sale.

In addition to the talk by Dr. Wild, there will be interesting music added to the program. The meeting is entirely free, and open to adults only. The lecture commences 8 o'clock.

TWIN CITY AUTO SHOW

Will Get Away to a Flying Start on Saturday, Feb. 2, in Overland
Building Midway District

The doors will creak open for the seventeenth time on the annual Twin City Auto Show which is billed to get away to a flying start Saturday, February 2nd, at the Overland Building midway between St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Those in charge of this year's show say it has "arrived" as one of national importance. In proof of this contention they point to the decision of at least seven prominent presidents of automobile factories to attend the local show. For many years, the executives visited only the New York and Chicago shows and scorned to look over the local undertaking.

Those who will be here are: M. E. Forbes, president of the Pierce-Arrow Company; C. W. Nash, president of the Nash Motors Company; A. R. Erskine, president of the Studebaker plant; Edward S. Jordan, president of the Jordan Company; Harry M. Jewett, president of the Paige and Jewett factory; G. H. Hannum, president of the Oakland Company, and A. B. C. Hardy of the Oldsmobile Company. They will be accompanied by a host of lesser lights in the motor car industry.

In addition to the passenger and commercial cars at the Overland Building this year, there will be a great accessory department; the most extensive radio show ever offered locally, and a style review. The latter will feature the fifteen girls who won the good looks prizes in as many newspaper contests. The gowns will be supplied by E. E. Atkinson and Company.

The show will close Saturday night, February 9th. It will be open every day and night, except Sunday, February 3rd.

First Baptist Church

On Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock the regular prayer meeting of the First Baptist church will be held, which members and friends are cordially invited to attend.

On Sunday Rev. Deaks, the Baptist pastor at Superior, Wis., will preach at both morning and evening at which services a large attendance is desired. There will be special music by the choir.

Junior Musical Club

Mrs. C. L. Burnett, chairman of the Junior Musical club, announces a miscellaneous program at the home of Margaret Jones, North 7th street at 7:30 Thursday evening.

Improving His Chances

BAKING IN THE HOME

By Helen Harrington Downing

For the past few years there has been a noticeable tendency to buy ready baked and delicatessen foods instead of preparing them at home; and with many it has become a permanent habit, hard to drop.

Lately, however, it has been noticed, home baking is again finding itself of prime importance among other household duties and new as well as old favorite recipes are being exchanged. Card index recipe boxes are given to the bride-to-be; while housewives and students are taking as great pride in showing their ability in the culinary line as the chef and teacher.

Home baked foods have after all the best flavor and taste, and real appreciation is shown when a plate of fresh home baked doughnuts or crullers are served where bakery goods have been the usual thing, and when hot light crisp fritters are served for dessert, every one is bound to be pleased.

When a platter of piping hot corn fritters or salmon croquettes, seasoned just right, are brought to the table with suitable accompanying sauce or gravy, the appreciation shown is sure to repay the efforts of the one who prepared them.

These things certainly show we are getting back some of the good old fashioned days of home happiness.

Points About Deep Fat Frying

The fat should be tested to see that it is at the right temperature for the best cooking. Not more than four or five doughnuts should be fried at one time when using a medium sized kettle such as is found in the average kitchen. A larger number will cool the fat and the result is the doughnuts are apt to crack. Neither will fried food be as crisp if cooked in too much of a hurry. Slow but not too slow cooking is preferable.

The frying basket should be lowered gently into the hot fat until the contents are completely covered with the hot fat. After frying, lift up the basket and allow it to hang on a hook or strip at side of kettle, and drain off any excess fat. Lift out doughnuts on to a piece of clean unglazed brown paper, which will absorb any further grease. Change the paper as soon as it becomes greasy.

Doughnuts

4 cups flour
4 level teaspoons baking powder
½ level teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten together
2 tablespoons melted butter
1 cup milk
Sift flour, then measure, add baking powder and salt and sift three times, put sugar and butter together, add well-beaten eggs, then flour and milk alternately. Turn out on a well floured board and roll out ½ inch thick. Cut with doughnut cutter. Let stand five minutes and fry in a kettle of hot fat. Vanilla or cinnamon may be added.

DANGERS OF A COLD

Brainerd People Will Do Well to Heed Them

Many bad cases of kidney trouble result from a cold or chill. Congested kidneys fall behind in filtering the poison-laden blood and backache, headache, dizziness and disordered kidney action follow. Don't neglect a cold. Use Doan's Pills at the first sign of kidney trouble. Read this Brainerd resident's example:

Hans Anderson, 502 Norwood St., says: "I caught a cold while at work and my back started aching. When I stooped to shovel some coal I got such a sharp catch in my back I thought I had been hit. From then on I had a steady ache in my back and I felt sore and stiff in the morning. My kidneys acted unnaturally and between all these symptoms I was feeling pretty badly. I tired easily and was usually all in before the day was over. I got a supply of Doan's Pills at Dunn's Drug Store and after using them a short time I was rid of the pains and kidney disorder."

NORTHWEST IN REGARD TO COAL STRIKE

THE Northwest is watching that coal miner convention down in Indianapolis. The proverbial camel which is waiting for the last straw to break his back is around in our neighborhood and if any radicals, either miners or mine owners, start running things, the Northwest will just buckle down and refuse to pay any higher coal prices. Every strike means that the ultimate consumer has to foot the bills for both sides in a strike controversy. Even the thought or possibility of a strike is used to bolster up prices, create a demand for the product and work the public up into a frenzy so that it will buy anything at any price, just so as to be secure in its coal supply.

The Northwest has its peat and lignite fields. People in Brainerd right now are burning North Dakota lignite. A theatre owner in Princeton has heated his place two years with peat he dug from peat swamps near Princeton. Before the Northwest will succumb to any more dictation from the soft or hard coal belt and wait for endless investigations to get nowhere, it will size up its own fuel resources, develop them and adapt them for home fuel. It can be done.

A German engineering firm recently made a survey of lignite fields and says the project is entirely feasible. The Northwest has had too much alarm, an annual alarm as it were, about fuel and has been the goat for high prices inflicted to cover the two ends always at loggerheads in the coal production, that is the miners and the mine owners. It would be quite a thing to let them argue while the Northwest dug its own fuel.

A move in that direction, scarcely noticed by some industries, is the fact that the Northern Pacific railway company is developing a large shallow open pit coal mine in the west and may soon be able to supply its own wants.

Every disturbance in the coal fields simply advances the cause of "white coal" or water power. The development of the Keokuk power plant displaced millions of tons of coal annually supplied that section of Iowa and Illinois.

The development of water power projects in North and Central Minnesota will displace further use of coal and makes this section still more independent as to coal supply.

The common people, that is the long-suffering public, can expect little aid from congress or the president. In his message to congress, President Coolidge said:

"The cost of coal has become unbearably high. It places a great burden on our industrial and domestic life. The public welfare requires a reduction in the price of fuel. With the enormous deposits in existence, failure of supply ought not to be tolerated. Those responsible for the conditions in the industry should undertake its reform and free it from the charge of profiteering."

The report of the Coal Commission will be before the congress. It comprises all the facts. It represents the mature deliberations and conclusions of the best talent and experience that ever made a national survey of the production and distribution of coal. I do not favor government ownership or operation of coal mines. The need is for action under private ownership that will secure greater continuity of production and greater public protection. The federal government has no peace-time authority to regulate wages, prices, or profits in coal at the mines or among dealers, but by ascertaining and publishing facts it can exercise great influence.

"The supply of coal must be constant. In case of its prospective interruption, the president should have authority to appoint a commission empowered to deal with whatever emergency situation might arise, to aid conciliation and voluntary arbitration, to adjust any existing or threatened controversy between the employer and the employee when collective bargaining fails, and by controlling distribution to prevent profiteering in this vital necessity. This legislation is exceedingly urgent, and essential to the exercise of national authority for the protection of the people. Those who undertake the responsibility of management or employment in this industry do so with the full knowledge that the public interest is paramount, and that to fail through any motive of selfishness in its service is such a betrayal of duty as warrants uncompromising action by the government."

No action was taken by congress on this part of the president's message. Publicity has not helped to clarify the situation.

The only solution for the Northwest is to dig its own fuel supply.

FARMERS BUSY IN CITY

TODAY was a busy day for farmers in this city attending to business matters of various kinds. A committee from the Brainerd Livestock Shipping association examined proposed sites for new stockyards and at length an agreement was reached with the railway company to keep the stockyards at the present location, but to improve loading facilities by removing buildings in the vicinity which block a view of trackage. This will make it much safer for shippers and avoid any recurrence of accidents at or near crossings in that neighborhood.

This afternoon the Long Lake Mutual Insurance company had its annual meeting. Henry Bouck is secretary of the association.

On Friday, said P. B. Anderson, president of the Crow Wing Farm Bureau unit, farmers will fill and deliver the many orders given them by a group of United Commercial Travelers of America of Brainerd Council No. 545. This takes in products from cordwood to chickens, eggs to rutabagas, cabbage to parsnips.

A VIGOROUS EXECUTIVE

PHILADELPHIA called on a "devil dog" or Marine to aid them in suppressing liquor law and other violations. Duluth has called a Duluthian, Bert N. Wheeler, as its commissioner of public safety. Both men are securing results, although, of course, Duluth is not in as deplorable a condition as Philadelphia.

Wheeler is seeing to strict enforcement of the law and his latest order is that hotels, restaurants, clubs and dance halls will be raided in the same manner as any other place in Duluth if there is suspicion of intoxicating liquors on the premises.

"Complaints have been coming into my office on conditions in hotels, restaurants, clubs and dance halls," Mr. Wheeler said. "The police have been instructed to move against any of these places, if suspected, in the usual manner of swearing out a warrant and raiding the place. It is up to the proprietors of these places to see that alcohol is not peddled in the wash rooms and clothes closets. Our duty is simply to arrest violators."

SCHOOL REPORT FOR DECEMBER

Attendance Considerably Broken Up
by Run of Whooping Cough
and Measles

CITIZENSHIP CLASS GROWS

At Present Evening Class Has 47
Adults Enrolled With Two
Teachers in Charge

(By W. C. Gobb, Superintendent of Brainerd City Schools)

School attendance during the month of December, particularly in the lower grades, was considerably broken up because of the general run of whooping cough and measles.

The evening class in citizenship started during the month of December at the high school, as an aid to foreigners, seeking their final papers for naturalization, has increased rather beyond the early expectations. Forty-seven adults have already enrolled, necessitating the employment of two teachers, and it is hoped that these evening classes may be the means not only of assisting these worthy people in securing their citizenship papers but that it may also help them to reach a point where they can help themselves to better advantage in an acquaintance with the English language and a knowledge of American principles and ideals. Miss Clara Hjerpe and Miss Selma Molstad assisted by the superintendent of schools are looking after the work of these evening classes.

At this time we wish again to call the attention of parents of girls in the present senior class to the question of the normal training department in the high school for next year. Reference to this matter has been made a number of times by the principal of the high school and by the superintendent of schools in public reports. All parents, who may be interested in a normal training department for the coming year, are advised to talk the matter over with their daughters and make up their minds whether they wish to register before the close of the present school year. Registrations will be called for by the state department early in May. Blanks have to be made out for each girl, giving name, age, and scholarship record for the entire four years in high school. The state inspector passes upon each of the applicants and approves of those whose age and school standing appear to be such as would properly qualify them to become teachers. Unless the required number of fully qualified and satisfactory candidates for this work are secured and approved by the state department in May, it is very doubtful that the state will grant a department to the high school, as the demand for such departments throughout the state as a whole has become greater than the funds provided for the maintenance of all schools that apply. The schools that have the largest number of well qualified candidates submitted early in May will have a decided preference in the matter of acceptance by the state department. It is therefore of interest to the high school in Brainerd and to the parents desirous to take advantage of the normal training course to decide upon this matter as early as possible and be ready for enrollment when the opportunity is offered.

The principal of the high school, Miss Tornstrom, the normal training director, Miss Vera Waterman, or the superintendent of schools will furnish additional information to parents concerning the normal training department and the advantages offered therein.

It is believed that the normal training department in this city is a particularly strong department and is doing a high grade of work in preparation for teachers teaching in the rural schools. All parties, who are interested in the maintenance of this important department, whether they have daughters in the graduating class or not, are urged to give publicity to the need of early registration, as a requisite to securing a department for another year.

It is probable that the patriotic programs given in the schools during the month of February will be held on Lincoln's birthday, February 12th. All citizens are invited to join with the schools in the observance of these programs and particularly the schools will be glad to have the presence of as many representatives from the G. A. R., the American Legion, and other patriotic orders in the city on this date.

IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Lad Arraigned Charged With Trespassing on Northern Pacific Railway Property

John Van Doren, aged 17 years, was arraigned in municipal court Wednesday morning, charged with trespassing on Northern Pacific railway property. Because of the fact that he is a minor, his case could not be tried in municipal court, but was certified to the juvenile court.

With young Van Doren was Fred Ledoux, aged 14 years, and the former's nephew, who was also taken before the juvenile court on the same charge.

Van Doren stated that his mother is dead and that his father lives in Des Moines, Iowa. He is staying with his sister, Mrs. Buelah Ledoux, 1019 Mill street.

It is stated that Fred Ledoux has been in trouble before, at one time he ran away from home and was picked up at Little Falls.

Clarence Halstead, charged with maintaining a nuisance in West Brainerd, changed his plea of not guilty, which he entered on Tuesday, to guilty. He was fined $100 or 90 days in jail.

In juvenile court this afternoon Fred Ledoux was committed to the boys industrial school at Red Wing, by Judge C. A. Albright, and John Van Doren was released on probation.

THE BOY SCOUTS TRAINING CLASSES

Knife, Hatchet and Axe, Their Uses,
Misuses and Abuses Explained
by Carl Wright

BERT ORNE ON SIGNALING

Scout Executive Stimble Explained
the Tracking Signs of Scouts, Etc.

The knife, hatchet and axe, their uses, misuses and abuses, were discussed by Carl Wright, at the regular Tuesday meeting of the men's classes in Boy Scout training, at the Civic and Commerce Association rooms last night.

The history of the axe, said to be man's first implement, both for war and peace times, was related by Mr. Wright, who told of the various styles now in use, and the proper and improper use of each. He described the manner in which the axe should be sharpened for different purposes and the general care that should be given the tool. He also explained the proper way to fell a tree and to trim off its branches.

Bert Orne took the class through a drill in wig-wagging, using the two-arm semaphore, and teaching the first ten letters of the alphabet that is used in the United States Navy and which has been adopted by the Boy Scouts. Next week he will give the balance of the alphabet.

This alphabet is a very practical one for every man to learn, it was explained. Quite often on a hunting or fishing trip the members of a party may become separated by such a distance that their voice cannot be heard. Communication may be maintained if wig-wagging is understood. Next week the international

Message code for signaling will be explained, also.

Scout Executive E. W. Stimble explained the tracking signs used by scouts, and illustrated the proper and improper methods of blazing trails on trees. Mr. Stimble also discussed the methods of keeping scout troop records, reports and finances, showing the history that is kept of each boy scout.

Plans for the anniversary week, February 8 to 14, were discussed, especially arrangements for the father and son banquet. Much interest is being exhibited among the men of the city in the program for the week.

It was announced that the January meeting of the executive board and council, will be held in the court house at 8 o'clock on Thursday evening. All members are urged to make a special effort to be present.

MCCOLL PICTURES LEAVING

Being Packed and Will be Returned to Their Owner, Leave Pleasant Memories

The pictures of Miss Mary McColl are being packed away to be returned to their owner, who has so kindly loaned them to us, who so rarely have the opportunity of seeing beautiful pictures. Fortunately, some of them are to remain here.

While they have been here, hundreds have had the privilege of viewing them, both at the home of Miss Islay McColl and at the court house. Many stood long before their favorites, and wished that they might keep them for their own. Like an artist with a wide range of notes, Miss McColl seems to possess a wide range of artistic methods, for she treated similar subjects with a different touch.

Especially liked were the Lady Tree, a Hickory screen, Russet and Gold and the Task, whose versatility of treatment testifies to Miss McColl's ability and the scope of her art.

SCHOOL REPORT FOR DECEMBER

Attendance Considerably Broken Up
by Run of Whooping Cough
and Measles

CITIZENSHIP CLASS GROWS

At Present Evening Class Has 47
Adults Enrolled With Two
Teachers in Charge

(By W. C. Gobb, Superintendent of BRAINERD CITY SCHOOLS)

School attendance during the month of December, particularly in the lower grades, was considerably broken up because of the general run of whooping cough and measles.

The evening class in citizenship started during the month of December at the high school, as an aid to foreigners, seeking their final papers for naturalization, has increased rather beyond the early expectations. Forty-seven adults have already enrolled, necessitating the employment of two teachers, and it is hoped that these evening classes may be the means not only of assisting these worthy people in securing their citizenship papers but that it may also help them to reach a point where they can help themselves to better advantage in an acquaintance with the English language and a knowledge of American principles and ideals. Miss Clara Hjerpe and Miss Selma Molstad assisted by the superintendent of schools are looking after the work of these evening classes.

At this time we wish again to call the attention of parents of girls in the present senior class to the question of the normal training department in the high school for next year. Reference to this matter has been made a number of times by the principal of the high school and by the superintendent of schools in public reports. All parents, who may be interested in a normal training department for the coming year, are advised to talk the matter over with their daughters and make up their minds whether they wish to register before the close of the present school year. Registrations will be called for by the state department early in May. Blanks have to be made out for each girl, giving name, age, and scholarship record for the entire four years in high school. The state inspector passes upon each of the applicants and approves of those whose age and school standing appear to be such as would properly qualify them to become teachers. Unless the required number of fully qualified and satisfactory candidates for this work are secured and approved by the state department in May, it is very doubtful that the state will grant a department to the high school, as the demand for such departments throughout the state as a whole has become greater than the funds provided for the maintenance of all schools that apply. The schools that have the largest number of well qualified candidates submitted early in May will have a decided preference in the matter of acceptance by the state department. It is therefore of interest to the high school in Brainerd and to the parents desirous to take advantage of the normal training course to decide upon this matter as early as possible and be ready for enrollment when the opportunity is offered.

The principal of the high school, Miss Tornstrom, the normal training director, Miss Vera Waterman, or the superintendent of schools will furnish additional information to parents concerning the normal training department and the advantages offered therein.

It is believed that the normal training department in this city is a particularly strong department and is doing a high grade of work in preparation for teachers teaching in the rural schools. All parties, who are interested in the maintenance of this important department, whether they have daughters in the graduating class or not, are urged to give publicity to the need of early registration, as a requisite to securing a department for another year.

It is probable that the patriotic programs given in the schools during the month of February will be held on Lincoln's birthday, February 12th. All citizens are invited to join with the schools in the observance of these programs and particularly the schools will be glad to have the presence of as many representatives from the G. A. R., the American Legion, and other patriotic orders in the city on this date.

IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Lad Arraigned Charged With Trespassing on Northern Pacific Railway Property

John Van Doren, aged 17 years, was arraigned in municipal court Wednesday morning, charged with trespassing on Northern Pacific railway property. Because of the fact that he is a minor, his case could not be tried in municipal court, but was certified to the juvenile court.

With young Van Doren was Fred Ledoux, aged 14 years, and the former's nephew, who was also taken before the juvenile court on the same charge.

Van Doren stated that his mother is dead and that his father lives in Des Moines, Iowa. He is staying with his sister, Mrs. Buelah Ledoux, 1019 Mill street.

It is stated that Fred Ledoux has been in trouble before, at one time he ran away from home and was picked up at Little Falls. Clarence Halstead, charged with maintaining a nuisance in West Brainerd, changed his plea of not guilty, which he entered on Tuesday, to guilty. He was fined $100 or 90 days in jail.

In juvenile court this afternoon Fred Ledoux was committed to the boys industrial school at Red Wing, by Judge C. A. Albright, and John Van Doren was released on probation.

THE BOY SCOUTS TRAINING CLASSES

Knife, Hatchet and Axe, Their Uses, Misuses and Abuses Explained
by Carl Wright

BERT ORNE ON SIGNALING

Scout Executive Stimble Explained the Tracking Signs of Scouts, Etc.

The knife, hatchet and axe, their uses, misuses and abuses, were discussed by Carl Wright, at the regular Tuesday meeting of the men's classes in Boy Scout training, at the Civic and Commerce Association rooms last night.

The history of the axe, said to be man's first implement, both for war and peace times, was related by Mr. Wright, who told of the various styles now in use, and the proper and improper use of each. He described the manner in which the axe should be sharpened for different purposes and the general care that should be given the tool. He also explained the proper way to fell a tree and to trim off its branches.

Bert Orne took the class through a drill in wig-wagging, using the two-arm semaphore, and teaching the first ten letters of the alphabet that is used in the United States Navy and which has been adopted by the Boy Scouts. Next week he will give the balance of the alphabet.

This alphabet is a very practical one for every man to learn, it was explained. Quite often on a hunting or fishing trip the members of a party may become separated by such a distance that their voice cannot be heard. Communication may be maintained if wig-wagging is understood. Next week the international code for signaling will be explained, also.

Scout Executive E. W. Stimble explained the tracking signs used by scouts, and illustrated the proper and improper methods of blazing trails on trees. Mr. Stimble also discussed the methods of keeping scout troop records, reports and finances, showing the history that is kept of each boy scout.

Plans for the anniversary week, February 8 to 14, were discussed, especially arrangements for the father and sons banquet. Much interest is being exhibited among the men of the city in the program for the week.

It was announced that the January meeting of the executive board and council, will be held in the court house at 8 o'clock on Thursday evening. All members are urged to make a special effort to be present.

MCCOLL PICTURES LEAVING

Being Packed and Will be Returned to Their Owner, Leave Pleasant Memories

The pictures of Miss Mary McColl are being packed away to be returned to their owner, who has so kindly loaned them to us, who so rarely have the opportunity of seeing beautiful pictures. Fortunately, some of them are to remain here.

While they have been here, hundreds have had the privilege of viewing them, both at the home of Miss Islay McColl and at the court house. Many stood long before their favorites, and wished that they might keep them for their own. Like an artist with a wide range of notes, Miss McColl seems to possess a wide range of artistic methods, for she treated similar subjects with a different touch.

Especially liked were the Lady Tree, a Hickory screen, Russet and Gold and the Task, whose versatility of treatment testifies to Miss McColl's ability and the scope of her art.

RAILROADING PLAYERS OUT OF MAJORS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Jan. 30.—Major league managers and club owners deny that they have among themselves a gentleman's agreement not to interfere with each other's trading activities by claiming useful players upon whom waivers have been asked.

From time to time, the fans, who have not access to the inside of baseball, find evidence that points to such an agreement. The players, who certainly are in a good position to hear back-stage talk, accused the club owners so directly with being willing to slide players out of the big leagues that they started to form a union a year ago to fight it.

When fifteen major league clubs recently allowed Elmer Smith, a .300 hitter, the champion pinch hitter of the American League and a fair fielding outfielder, to be shipped out to the American Association without a claim being made for him, it seemed strange, to say the least.

It was hard to understand why clubs in need of a reliable fielder and a hard hitter would offer big money to gamble on a minor league player when they would not accept for the waiver price a player of known ability.

Perhaps it was natural to figure that the Yankees wanted him to complete a deal with Louisville for young Combs, a rookie with two seasons' experience and that the other clubs acted on the agreement—"I'll not claim yours, if you'll not claim mine."

Beyond an abstract denial of charges that the old "railroad" was still working, only one club official would take the trouble to explain how such things could happen regularly as a part of routine business.

John McGraw, vice president and manager of the Giants, suggests that in the case of Smith several rival managers might have wanted to take him away from the Yankees, but they might not have been able to do it.

"Major league clubs are allowed to have only forty players on their list at any one time and just before the training season starts, it is seldom that a manager has a place on his team at a moment's notice," McGraw said.

It is a well known fact that the "forty player limit rule" is one of those rules that looks good on the books and that is respected only as a good looking rule by the baseball people. It is also believed generally that the rule never will prevent a club owner from taking on a player that he really wants.

There is more to another argument presented by McGraw, however, that frequently a fancy contract prevents one club from taking a player from another club, for even the low price of the waiver.

If Smith had a three or four year contract at a salary of $7,000 or $8,000 it is not likely that one of the club owners not in the wealthy class would care to assume the obligations of a contract—if they would consider a baseball contract as placing any obligations on the club owner.

With a lot of sound wisdom behind the point, McGraw also calls to mind that major league managers may know a lot more about the ability of players than the fans and the writers.

He points out that all managers are not in such a position financially that they can impose a burden on the payroll just to have a pinch hitter on the bench and that the title of "champion pinch hitter" is not as high meaning as it sounds.

A pinch hitter, it must be admitted, might finish the season with an average of .399 and yet he might not win a single game.

BRAINERD IN DOUBLE HEADER NEXT FRIDAY

(By L. P.)

Coming through the Aitkin mix last Friday night without any injuries, the Brainerd quint will meet the Little Falls High school five Friday evening in a double header. First and second squads are clashing for honors.

The game last Friday showed the greatest weakness that the Blue and White possessors and that is poor shooting. Coach Rosel intends to spend the majority of the time this week in perfecting his men's shooting. If this weakness can be remedied the Brainerd five will be greatly strengthened.

JOE LOHMAN TO FIGHT SIKI SOON

Minneapolis, Jan. 30.—Joe Lohman, the husky young Toledo light heavyweight, conqueror of Floyd Johnson and the man who will attempt to take the measure of Battling Siki at the Kenwood armory next Thursday night, arrived in Minneapolis early yesterday. With him was his wife and his manager, Jimmy Herrick.

Lohman is a modest chap who did not voice any wild threats about what he will do to the Senegalese Simian in their 10-round go. He admitted that in Siki he has one of the most formidable opponents that he ever met but he smiled as he said he thought he was equal to the task of toppling over the Negro.

LOWDEN SPEAKS TO WHEAT GROWERS

SURPLUS MUST BE TREATED AS DIFFERENT FROM GREAT BODY OF CROP

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 30.—"Surplus of wheat must be treated as an entirely different thing than the great body of the crop," Frank O. Lowden, ex-governor of Illinois and chairman of the National Wheat Growers Advisory committee declared here in the first of two talks which he will give in the state under the auspices of the North Dakota Wheat Growers.

Governor Lowden advised wheat growers to take a lesson from the steel industry which he said had "become independent of the revolutionary changes which come to the business of the world."

"The farmer," he said, "must be an individual so far as production goes, but when it comes to the marketing and the distribution of his product, let him be organized as every other industry is organized and then have a control over his product, just as the steel manufacturers have control of theirs; when a surplus is produced, that surplus will be treated as an entirely separate thing from the great body of the crop, and then his organization will make a price upon the great body of the crop for our home consumption just as the steel organizations make a price for domestic consumption."

"That price will be independent of the many cataclysms which have been following one another in all the civilized world since the great war. That practice will make it possible for the farmer intelligently to manage his own farm."

"When he is organized—and he can only be organized for the purpose of marketing and distribution thru the community cooperative plan as I view it—he will do exactly as Mr. Steel Manufacturer does. He will know something about world conditions, through his organization. He will know what the chances are of profitable export marketing, and if he makes up his mind that there will be no profitable export market another year, he will do exactly what Mr. Steel Manufacturer does."

"He will only produce, or aim to produce, that amount which will supply the needs of the American people because it will be far better for him to have an average of 20 per cent less and receive more for the 80 per cent that he now receives for the 100 per cent."

"He could find use for this other 20 per cent which will at least not entail a loss."

"In every other industry but agriculture, I want to remind you, there are great annual conventions at which all phases of the industry are represented and here they discuss every question under the sun pertaining to their business, excepting in agriculture; and when they separate they will make during the next year and there is a beautiful concert of action for the following year."

Lowden ridiculed the theory that the law of supply and demand regulated prices justly.

"The law of supply and demand justly to fix prices of any commodity must be under circumstances where there is an equality of knowledge and equality in all other respects, on both sides," he said. He pointed out that the individual farmer, working independently could not have an equality of knowledge on world conditions affecting prices with the great organizations whose wires penetrate every part of the world.

In regard to charges that forecasts of a surplus had affected the price of wheat he said:

"Suppose a great surplus of steel were announced," said the speaker, "what do you think the United States Steel Corporation would do? Do you think they would put the price of steel down thirty per cent in order to meet the views of the men who would listen to these statements? No. The United States Steel Corporation, knowing the situation, might close down a mill or two, temporarily, but you could not go out and buy steel any cheaper than you could buy the day before. They would wait a week, or two weeks, or maybe three weeks, or even a month or two if necessary, until the truth were apparent, and then resume business at the old stand, at the same old prices, and pay dividends at the end of the year."

"That is the difference between an organized industry and an unorganized industry in these times."

Earl Williams and Jane Novak in 'Jealous Husband'

Jealous No Sign of Love, Says Tourneur

Is jealousy an evidence of love?

Maurice Tourneur, the noted director, says "No!" and says it emphatically. And he proves his point in his latest production, "Jealous Husbands," a First National picture produced by M. C. Levee, which is showing at the New Park tonight and Thursday.

"Jealousy is destructive; it tears down all that love has built up—faith, sympathy, understanding, kindness—all the finer things that love awakens," says Mr. Tourneur. The picture tells the tale of Ramon Martinez' jealousy as it runs its course. It finds its inception in the smoking room of a steamship returning from the Orient—a roomful of leering men, sneering at all virtue. Martinez, writing a telegram to his wife, telling her of his unexpected return, has his attention arrested by the tales. The evil seed is planted. He hears up his message.

Ben Alexander, the 12-year-old movie star who won fame overnight by his characterization of Penrod in "Penrod and Sam," one of the most successful pictures of recent years, can be seen again in "Jealous Husbands."

Gladys Walton Plays Two Roles in Latest Film

Gladys Walton, the pretty little Universal star who has appeared to such an advantage in so many flapper roles, essays the most difficult part of her screen career in "The Untameable," which plays at the Lyceum theatre tonight and Thursday.

As the diminutive heroine of "Pink Tights," "All Dolled Up," "Second Hand Rose," "Sawdust" and other plays of similar character, Miss Walton has gained a widespread popularity. She is one of the best-known flapper stars of the screen.

Jack Hoxie Shy of Women

Jack Hoxie is a big, good-natured lad who, despite his success as a screen star, is still shy of women.

Added to that feature of his personality is an aversion to being called a "movie star." So when a flock of pretty girls stopped him one day on the beach, Jack looked mournful and ill at ease.

"Aren't you a 'movie star'?" caroled a blonde.

"Why, nope, mam, I ain't. I'm just Jack Hoxie, a cowpuncher trying to earn a living in pictures. They had to get somebody big enough to lick the villain without making it look funny, so they made me a hero."

The Western star's latest appearance, showing at the Lyceum theatre on Friday and Saturday, "Men in the Raw," is a screen version of the popular magazine story of the same name by W. Bert Foster.

Joie Ray of Chicago Is Best as Distance Runner

Any time Joie Ray wants to go six or seven blocks through the downtown district of Chicago he takes his taxi-cab and does it, but, when it comes to stepping a mile or two miles over cinder circles throughout this country and others, Joie takes to his feet and his legs have a habit of responding in most satisfactory fashion. In fact Joie is one of our ablest distance runners.

He is very small, neatly built and runs just like he was wound up. For a number of years he was assisting the Illinois A. C. of Chicago in its track and field endeavors, and he has been one of the club's most reliable point winners. He holds several records and is expected to prove one of our best bets in the coming Olympics. Joie is a taxi driver in Chicago. He formerly lived at Gary, Ind.

RAILROADING PLAYERS OUT OF MAJORS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Jan. 30.—Major league managers and club owners deny that they have among themselves a gentleman's agreement not to interfere with each other's trading activities by claiming useful players upon whom waivers have been asked.

From time to time, the fans, who have not access to the inside of baseball, find evidence that points to such an agreement. The players, who certainly are in a good position to hear back-stage talk, accused the club owners so directly with being willing to slide players out of the big leagues that they started to form a union a year ago to fight it.

When fifteen major league clubs recently allowed Elmer Smith, a .300 hitter, the champion pinch hitter of the American League and a fair fielding outfielder, to be shipped out to the American Association without a claim being made for him, it seemed strange, to say the least.

It was hard to understand why clubs in need of a reliable fielder and a hard hitter would offer big money to gamble on a minor league player when they would not accept for the waiver price a player of known ability.

Perhaps it was natural to figure that the Yankees wanted him to complete a deal with Louisville for young Combs, a rookie with two seasons' experience and that the other clubs acted on the agreement—"I'll not claim yours, if you'll not claim mine."

Beyond an abstract denial of charges that the old "railroad" was still working, only one club official would take the trouble to explain how such things could happen regularly as a part of routine business.

John McGraw, vice president and manager of the Giants, suggests that in the case of Smith several rival managers might have wanted to take him away from the Yankees, but they might not have been able to do it.

"Major league clubs are allowed to have only forty players on their list at any one time and just before the training season starts, it is seldom that a manager has a place on his team at a moment's notice," McGraw said.

It is a well known fact that the "forty player limit rule" is one of those rules that looks good on the books and that is respected only as a good looking rule by the baseball people. It is also believed generally that the rule never will prevent a club owner from taking on a player that he really wants.

There is more to another argument presented by McGraw, however, that frequently a fancy contract prevents one club from taking a player from another club, for even the low price of the waiver.

If Smith had a three or four year contract at a salary of $7,000 or $8,000 it is not likely that one of the club owners not in the wealthy class would care to assume the obligations of a contract—if they would consider a baseball contract as placing any obligations on the club owner.

With a lot of sound wisdom behind the point, McGraw also calls to mind that major league managers may know a lot more about the ability of players than the fans and the writers.

He points out that all managers are not in such a position financially that they can impose a burden on the payroll just to have a pinch hitter on the bench and that the title of "champion pinch hitter" is not as high meaning as it sounds.

A pinch hitter, it must be admitted, might finish the season with an average of .999 and yet he might not win a single game.

BRAINERD IN DOUBLE HEADER NEXT FRIDAY

(By L. P.)

Coming through the Aitkin mix last Friday night without any injuries, the Brainerd quint will meet the Little Falls High school five Friday evening in a double header. First and second squads are clashing for honors.

The game last Friday showed the greatest weakness that the Blue and White possesses and that is poor shooting. Coach Rosel intends to spend the majority of the time this week in perfecting his men's shooting. If this weakness can be remedied the Brainerd five will be greatly strengthened.

JOE LOHMAN TO FIGHT SIKI SOON

Minneapolis, Jan. 30.—Joe Lohman, the husky young Toledo light heavyweight, conqueror of Floyd Johnson and the man who will attempt to take the measure of Battling Siki at the Kenwood armory next Thursday night, arrived in Minneapolis early yesterday. With him was his wife and his manager, Jimmy Herrick.

Lohman is a modest chap who did not voice any wild threats about what he will do to the Senegalese Simian in their 10-round go. He admitted that in Siki he has one of the most formidable opponents that he ever met but he smiled as he said he thought he was equal to the task of toppling over the Negro.

YANK SKI TEAMS ARRIVE AT CHAMONIX

Chamonix, France, Jan. 29.—The American skiing team arrived today, accompanied by Mayor Leach of Minneapolis. The Canadian hockey team triumphed over Sweden, 22 to 0.

McTIGUE TO FIGHT GEORGES CARPENTIER

New York, Jan. 30.—Mike McTigue, world's light heavyweight champion, and Georges Carpentier, will open the outdoor season with a bout for the title in one of the New York ball parks. The event will be the feature of an all star card that is to be staged for the benefit of the milk fund.

McTigue has agreed to terms and promised to meet Gene Tunney, the American champion, later in the summer if he is successful against the Frenchman. McTigue is now trying to get out of a contract he signed several months ago to meet Tunney this winter.

Rickard is Promoter

Tex Rickard made the match and will be the general overseer. Rickard repeated today he was not interested in reports that a New York syndicate was prepared to promote the Firpo-Wills fight next summer and that Firpo had accepted the $250,000 offer for his contract. There was a general disposition in boxing circles here to take the report lightly.

"Firpo knows what I will give him—$200,000. If he wants to sign with some other promoter and can get more money that's his business," Rickard said.

Firpo has nothing more than a verbal agreement with Rickard to fight Wills, according to Rickard.

Would Draw Capacity

Firpo and Wills would draw as many spectators as any arena could hold and the gate ordinarily should be big enough to meet the $450,000 guarantee which is said to have been offered.

However, if the promoters had to build an arena there would be little left for them after all their expenses had been paid.

PADDOCK ASKS A.A.U. TO REINSTATE HIM

Boston, Jan. 29.—Charles Paddock the California sprinter, suspended by the American Athletic union last summer for competing in France without permission, has filed an application for reinstatement. William C. Prout, president of the union, said yesterday that he would hold the application for the executive committee meeting in Chicago next week.

LOWDEN SPEAKS TO WHEAT GROWERS

SURPLUS MUST BE TREATED AS DIFFERENT FROM GREAT BODY OF CROP

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 30.—"Surplus of wheat must be treated as an entirely different thing than the great body of the crop," Frank O. Lowden, ex-governor of Illinois and chairman of the National Wheat Growers Advisory committee declared here in the first of two talks which he will give in the state under the auspices of the North Dakota Wheat Growers.

Governor Lowden advised wheat growers to take a lesson from the steel industry which he said had "become independent of the revolutionary changes which come to the business of the world."

"The farmer," he said, "must be an individual so far as production goes, but when it comes to the marketing and the distribution of his product, let him be organized as every other industry is organized and then have a control over his product, just as the steel manufacturers have control of theirs; when a surplus is produced, that surplus will be treated as an entirely separate thing from the great body of the crop, and then his organization will make a price upon the great body of the crop for our home consumption just as the steel organizations make a price for domestic consumption."

"That price will be independent of the many cataclysms which have been following one another in all the civilized world since the great war. That practice will make it possible for the farmer intelligently to manage his own farm."

"When he is organized—and he can only be organized for the purpose of marketing and distribution thru the community cooperative plan as I view it—he will do exactly as Mr. Steel Manufacturer does. He will know something about world conditions, through his organization. He will know what the chances are of profitable export marketing, and if he makes up his mind that there will be no profitable export market another year, he will do exactly what Mr. Steel Manufacturer does."

"He will only produce, or aim to produce, that amount which will supply the needs of the American people because it will be far better for him to have an average of 29 per cent less and receive more for the 80 per cent that he now receives for the 100 per cent."

"He could find use for this other 20 per cent which will at least not entail a loss."

"In every other industry but agriculture, I want to remind you, there are great annual conventions at which all phases of the industry are represented and here they discuss every question under the sun pertaining to their business, excepting in agriculture; and when they separate may not make any further agreement as to the prices, but they know pretty well what one another is going to charge during the next year—they know something about the profits they will make during the next year and there is a beautiful concert of action for the following year."

Lowden ridiculed the theory that the law of supply and demand regulated prices justly.

"The law of supply and demand justly to fix prices of any commodity must be under circumstances where there is an equality of knowledge and equality in all other respects, on both sides," he said. He pointed out that the individual farmer, working independently could not have an equality of knowledge on world conditions affecting prices with the great organizations whose wires penetrate every part of the world.

In regard to charges that forecasts of a surplus had affected the price of wheat he said:

"Suppose a great surplus of steel were announced," said the speaker, "what do you think the United States Steel Corporation would do? Do you think they would put the price of steel down thirty per cent in order to meet the views of the men who would listen to these statements? No. The United States Steel Corporation, knowing the situation, might close down a mill or two, temporarily, but you could not go out and buy steel any cheaper than you could buy the day before. They would wait a week, or two weeks, or maybe three weeks, or even a month or two if necessary, until the truth were apparent, and then resume business at the old stand, at the same old prices, and pay dividends at the end of the year."

"That is the difference between an organized industry and an unorganized industry in these times."

Earl Williams and Jane Novak in 'Jealous Husbands'

Jealousy No Sign of Love, Says Tourneur

Is jealousy an evidence of love? Maurice Tourneur, the noted director, says "No!" and says it emphatically. And he proves his point in his latest production, "Jealous Husbands," a First National picture produced by M. C. Levee, which is showing at the New Park tonight and Thursday.

"Jealousy is destructive; it tears down all that love has built up—faith, sympathy, understanding, kindness—all the finer things that love awakens," says Mr. Tourneur.

The picture tells the tale of Ramon Martinez' jealousy as it runs its course. It finds its inception in the smoking room of a steamship returning from the Orient—a roomful of leering men, sneering at all virtue. Martinez, writing a telegram to his wife, telling her of his unexpected return, has his attention arrested by the tales. The evil seed is planted. He tears up his message. Ben Alexander, the 12-year-old movie star who won fame overnight by his characterization of Penrod in "Penrod and Sam," one of the most successful pictures of recent years can be seen again in "Jealous Husbands."

Gladys Walton Plays Two Roles in Latest Film

Gladys Walton, the pretty little Universal star who has appeared to such an advantage in so many flapper roles, essays the most difficult part of her screen career in "The Untameable," which plays at the Lyceum theatre tonight and Thursday.

As the diminutive heroine of "Pink Tights," "All Dolled Up," "Second Hand Rose," "Sawdust" and other plays of similar character, Miss Walton has gained a widespread popularity. She is one of the best-known flapper stars of the screen.

Jack Hoxie Shy of Women

Jack Hoxie is a big, good-natured lad who, despite his success as a screen star, is still shy of women.

Added to that feature of his personality is an aversion to being called a "movie star." So when a flock of pretty girls stopped him one day on the beach, Jack looked mournful and ill at ease.

"Aren't you a 'movie star'?" caroled a blonde.

"Why, nope, mam, I ain't. I'm just Jack Hoxie, a cowpuncher trying to earn a living in pictures. They had to get somebody big enough to lick the villain without making it look funny, so they made me a hero."

The Western star's latest appearance, showing at the Lyceum theatre on Friday and Saturday, "Men in the Raw," is a screen version of the popular magazine story of the same name by W. Bert Foster.

Joie Ray of Chicago Is Best as Distance Runner

Any time Joie Ray wants to go six or seven blocks through the downtown district of Chicago he takes his taxi-cab and does it, but when it comes to stepping a mile or two miles over cinder circles throughout this country and others, Joie takes to his feet and his legs have a habit of responding in most satisfactory fashion. In fact Joie is one of our ablest distance runners.

He is very small, neatly built and runs just like he was wound up. For a number of years he was assisting the Illinois A. C. of Chicago in its track and field endeavors, and he has been one of the club's most reliable point winners. He holds several records and is expected to prove one of our best bets in the coming Olympics. Joie is a taxi driver in Chicago. He formerly lived at Gary, Ind.

Says Indigestion Results From An Excess of Hydrochloric Acid

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather ferments, the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that Indigestion is caused by Hyperacidity meaning there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest; we belch up gas; we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink it while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief often follows the first dose, it is important to help neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used for many stomach disorders with excellent results.—Advt.
